The Bricker Graydon K-12 Education Law Fellowship

Are you a law student with demonstrated interest in supporting public education institutions in Ohio?

Want a legal career that offers variety every single day?

Bricker
Graydon

The Bricker Graydon K-12 Education Law Fellowship

Bricker Graydon's K-12 Education Law Fellowship is awarded to a law student who has professional experience as a human resource professional or K-12 school administrator who is eager to work closely with our attorneys as they provide practical legal advice to educational institutions across the state on topics such as:

- Employment Law
- Labor Law and Negotiations
- Board Governance
- Student Conduct
- Constitutional Issues
- Title IX and Civil Rights
- Public Records Law
- Open Meetings Law
- Ethics Laws
- Crisis Management

Fellows are provided with summer employment, as well as an opportunity for continued employment throughout the academic year as schedules permit, and the opportunity for employment as an attorney upon graduation and successful admission to the bar. During their summer, Fellows are provided with training and assist with research, writing, and brainstorming to consider the best ways to help clients navigate their situations.

The successful Fellow will be:

- A current 1L or 2L
- A current or former human resource professional or K-12 school administrator
- An inquisitive self-starter
- A collaborator who enjoys building and maintaining relationships
- A problem solver

Bricker Graydon has offices in Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky, with many team members focused in Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati. The successful applicant primarily will work within the Columbus office with opportunities to visit other locations and for some remote work. Travel within Ohio with an attorney may be required.
